

LET'S TALK CREATION

Episode 129: Responding to our Critics of the After the Flood series

And here you thought our "After the Flood" series was over! Surprise, we got a new episode! We had several thoughtful responses to our "After the Flood" series from last year, and we decided to record a response episode. Is there too much happening in too little time? Can we be sure? How could species change so much? Could animals really raft across the ocean? All that and the Columbia River Basalts! And Rama the Cama too!
